

SATISFACTORY ACADEMIC PROFESSIONALISM

Satisfactory performance in the Graduate School also involves maintaining the professional standards and academic progress expected in a discipline or program. Failure to maintain the standards or progress set out in a student's departmental or program handbook may result in dismissal from the program.