

AUDITING COURSES

To audit a course, students must obtain written permission of the course instructor and the academic program chair. Students can request this permission only after the end of the official registration period.

Retroactive academic credit for an audited course is not permitted. If a student requires credit for a previously audited course, the student must enroll for the course and fulfill all assignment to receive a course grade and academic credit.