

SOCIOLOGY, B.A.

The Sociology major provides students with an understanding of the fundamental processes of social interaction that underlie all social organization and change. Beyond book and library study, students are required to develop skills in computer analysis and in survey and field research. Students may

1. Major in sociology,
2. Major in sociology with a concentration in criminology,
3. Complete the social studies licensure for secondary teachers with a major in sociology,
4. Major in both sociology and another field, or
5. Minor in sociology.

Requirements for these six options are described separately below.

Student Learning Goals

Sociology majors at UNC Greensboro will be expected to:

- Define and apply basic sociological concepts used in micro and macro sociological theory
- Explain the difference between personal opinion and theoretical insight based on research and between structural and individualistic explanations of human action
- Know how to formulate research hypotheses, collect, and do basic analysis of data
- Evaluate the appropriateness of various theories and research methods for answering different types of empirical questions
- Explain the differences among and the uses of different types of sociological research methods
- Be able to recognize and respond appropriately to the ethical issues involved in studying human subjects and organizations

Overall Requirements

- 120 credit hours, to include at least 36 credits at or above the 300 course level.
- All sociology majors must complete a minimum of 36 credit hours in sociology with at least a 2.0 GPA in the major.
